Beautiful Inside & Out

inner beauty

whoever said, "beauty is only skin deep" was wrong.

true beauty comes from within.

radiant natural beauty comes from healthy nourished skin cells.

paint may make a building look pretty, but it doesn't make it any newer.

just as makeup and creams alone may only mask the signs of aging. it's time to go deeper.

outer beauty

whoever said, "age is just a number" never had wrinkles.

outer beauty is important, but not at any cost.

harsh chemicals and harmful ingredients often produce dramatic results; however, in the end they may cause more damage than good.

discover the clean alternative.

skin care that is actually good for your body.

international beauty

we had some of the most beautiful women in the world test bio. women with demanding schedules and very different skin types. here is what they found.

cherry liu

beautiful inside:
cherry volunteers for a non-profit environmental group based out of finland. this global network for sustainable development works with over 7000 schools in 147 countries, planting trees, promoting environmental awareness and teaching children the importance of conservation.

"the bio cream is amazing and the bio serum is even better!"

beautiful outside:
cherry started modeling at the age of 18 after she won her first pageant, miss earth taiwan. cherry has modeled for some of the most prestigious brands in the fashion industry including, gucci, cartier, miumiu, and salvatore ferragamo. she is currently a public relations executive for one of the most famous fashion houses in the world.

manou volkmer

beautiful inside:
in addition to manou's charitable work in her home country of germany, on a recent visit to the united states, she made time for the children at "a place called home." this los angeles organization is a safe haven for inner city children affected by gangs and poverty.

"everything david sandoval formulates is natural and healthy. it's hard to find products like this that you can trust."

beautiful outside:
the winner of the prestigious miss earth germany contest at only 18 years of age, manou has since traveled the world as a fashion model. she can be seen on the runways of italy, hosting fashion events in south america or on television commercials in eastern europe. this aspiring actress has the looks and the personality to captivate an audience.

david sandoval

the creator of the "beautiful inside and outside" concept and formulations, david is primarily known for his best-selling book, 'the green foods bible.' what is less known is that david sandoval has also been a featured speaker for many years at "ice" (international congress for estheticians) and a regular contributor to dermascope magazine. he called upon several of his skin care expert friends to help him with the formulation of the bio product line and then asked his celebrity contacts to assist with the testing and fine-tuning of each of the products.
